

Banco de España Selects Virtue for 60th Anniversary Bretton Woods System Conference co-organised with the IMF

London, UK – 15 June 2004

Virtue Communications (“Virtue”), a leading provider of online corporate communications solutions today announces that the Bank of Spain selected it to broadcast its latest conference in Madrid, Spain on June 14-15, 2004.

The Banco de España and the International Monetary Fund organised an international research conference to mark the sixtieth anniversary of the Bretton Woods System.

Virtue delivered a live webcast of the opening ceremony presided by Rodrigo Rato, Managing Director International Monetary Fund, Pedro Solbes, Second Vice-President of the Government and Minister of the Economy and Finance, and Jaime Caruana, Governor of the Banco de España. Additionally, the press conference was also broadcast online; both events are available for viewing from both Banco de España and the IMF websites (www.bde.es and www.imf.org) to anyone interested across the world.

Tanja Bach, Spanish MD, Virtue, said: “We are incredibly excited to be involved in such a high-profile event with world-leading institutions such as the Banco de España and the IMF. This deal is a testament to our undisputed leadership in the Spanish market, and the trust we have earned from our clients to deliver their most important events.”
